

ABSTRACT OF DISCLOSURE

The present invention provides a method for treating ocular hypertension and glaucoma, using a 15-keto-prostaglandin compound having a ring structure at the end of ω chain. The method of the present invention induces substantially no hair growth, which is a known side effect of conventional prostaglandin ophthalmic compounds such as latanoprost.

10